

Honoring 28 Remarkable Years: Ann Adams' Legacy of Service

A Career That Began in 1998

Ann's journey with Dodge began in July 1998, initially working in local invoicing and distribution. Over the years, Ann witnessed significant changes in technology, from paper filing and faxing to electronic communication. Yet, one thing remained constant: her commitment to building lasting customer relationships. As Ann begins this next chapter, she looks forward to spending more time with her grandchildren and family.

From the Desk of Tom Linhares Chief Revenue Officer, Commercial Services

1998 was a big year - Ann and I both joined Dodge. I was running a branch office in Chicago, while Ann was supporting several teams here in St. Louis. I quickly realized that Ann was an exceptional employee: available, friendly, flexible, dependable, and, most importantly, a passionate advocate for our customers.

As both of our careers grew and I relocated to St. Louis, my reliance on Ann and my gratitude for her commitment only increased.

Each day, Ann has embodied every one of the core values of Dodge.

- Be Respectful
- Be Accountable
- Be a Customer Hero
- Be Innovative
- Be the Best You Can Be

Well done, Ann, and thank you. Ann's leadership and example as a customer advocate have been particularly noteworthy. She has built unique and personal connections with many of her customers, some spanning decades. Our success at Dodge is driven by outstanding customer service and meaningful relationships with every customer we serve. When it came to customer connection and customer advocacy, Ann was simply the best.

It is with some sadness, but overwhelming gratitude, that I wish Ann a well-deserved retirement. On behalf of the entire Dodge team, thank you, Ann, for your dedication, your service, and the lasting impact you have made on our company, our customers, and all of us who have had the privilege of working alongside you.

A Message from Alex Clerc

Making Senior Living Moves Easier

Moving into a senior living community is more than a change of address. For residents and their families, it can be an exciting new chapter—but also an emotional transition after years, or even decades, in the same home.

That's where the Dodge Moving & Storage Household Goods team can make a difference.

From carefully packing treasured belongings and safely transporting furniture, to reassembling furnishings and helping create a familiar new living space, our team helps take the physical burden of moving off residents and their families.

Successful senior moves also depend on planning and partnership. Dodge works with senior living communities to coordinate details such as move-in procedures, elevator reservations, parking access, building requirements and scheduling—helping avoid surprises and keep moving day on track.

Planning ahead can make an equally big difference. Starting early gives families time to thoughtfully downsize, review floor plans, decide what furniture will work in the new space and prepare the new home before move-in day. Familiar furniture, photographs and keepsakes can help the new space feel like home from the very beginning.

At Dodge, a senior move isn't simply about moving belongings from one location to another. It's about helping make an important life transition feel a little easier—and helping people feel at home in their next chapter

With the school's budget significantly reduced this year, our contributions were especially appreciated. A great reminder that even small acts of kindness can make a big difference!
